Summary of Content

DME to List the Inter-Commodity Spread between the DME Brent Crude Oil Financial and the DME Oman Crude Oil Financial Contracts as of Trade Date July 28

Beginning at 1800 (New York time) on Sunday evening, July 27 (for trade date Monday, July 28), the Dubai Mercantile Exchange Limited (DME) will list the inter-commodity spread between DME Brent Crude Oil Financial Contract ("ZO") and the DME Oman Crude Oil Financial Contract ("ZG").

Spread

ZO:ZG

Product Description

DME Brent Crude Oil Financial minus DME Oman Crude Oil Financial Contract

This inter-commodity spread (ZO:ZG) will be available for trading on DME Direct™ beginning on July 27 at 1800 in New York, which equates to 2300 in London, or 0600 on July 28 in Singapore, for trade date July 28, 2008.

ZO is cash-settled based on the ICE Brent Crude Oil Futures Contract. Trading terminates at the close of business on the business day immediately preceding the 15th day prior to the first day of the delivery month, if such 15th day is a banking day in London. If the 15th day is a non-banking day in London (including Saturday), trading shall cease on the business day immediately preceding the first business day prior to the 15th day.

ZG is financially-settled based on the physically-delivered DME Oman Crude Oil Futures Contract. Trading terminates on the penultimate (second-to-last) trading day of the DME Oman Crude Oil Futures Contract, i.e., the second-to-last business day of the second month preceding the contract month.

These new contracts are listed for up to 72 consecutive months. The contract specifications for the new contracts are available on the DME website:
