Appointment of Greg Collins as Chief Compliance Officer

The Dubai Mercantile Exchange Limited (DME) today announced the appointment of Greg Collins as Chief Compliance Officer (CCO) of the DME.

Mr. Collins joins the DME with more than a decade of broad-based exposure across the financial services industry including funds management, private banking, investment banking and sales and trading. This includes global experience in the area of compliance across key international markets and financial centres in Australia, the United States, the United Kingdom and Japan.

Mr. Collins spent seven years at Merrill Lynch working in senior compliance roles, most recently as Director of US Surveillance at the bank's New York headquarters. Previous roles at Merrill Lynch included Director, Corporate Compliance in New York and Head of Compliance for Merrill Lynch Investment Managers in Australia. Prior to joining the bank, Mr. Collins worked with Deutsche Asset Management, ING Mercantile Mutual and PricewaterhouseCoopers. Mr. Collins holds degrees in Law and Arts from the University of Queensland and is admitted to practice as a Barrister of the Supreme Court of Queensland.

As CCO of the DME, Greg Collins will work to ensure that the DME continues to operate according to the highest regulatory and financial standards and safeguards. His role will include ensuring that the Exchange complies with DFSA, ESCA, and CFTC regulations as well as maintaining relationships with an additional 21 international regulators that have recognised the DME since its launch in June 2007.

Signed

Thomas Leaver

Chief Executive Officer
